What you'll experience:

The Douglas Trail offers a pleasant ride of 12.7 miles from Pine Island to Rochester on a recently widened and repaved surface. The trail does not parallel major roads, so it's the perfect ride for a peacefully quiet, rustic feel. Wide-open spaces offer a view of rolling cropland, farms, horses, cattle, and wooded areas. A canopy of trees along much of the route also makes the ride perfect for warm days. Several old railroad bridges offer pleasant views of the meandering Zumbro River.

The main rest stop is Douglas, about mid-point along the trail. It offers picnic tables, restrooms, and a parking area. There are also several shelters, tables, and benches along other sections of the trail.

The starting point for this ride is Pine Island Trail Head Park which has water, bathrooms and plenty of room for parking and picnicking plus a spacious playground. Food and refreshments are just two short blocks away on Main Street. Rochester on the south end of the trail has an additional 60 miles of recreational trails. So what's your excuse? Come to Pine Island to experience the trails!
